P. G. Marsteller, v. M.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE subscriber, after a lapse of time necessarily consumed in the preparation of his house, respectfully announces to the citizens of Alexandria, as well as the community at large, that he has taken for a term of years that noted and eligible establishment known by the name of the CITY HOTEL, and once occupied by Mr. Gadsby, whose distinguished abilities as a Publican gave it an eclat which the subscriber hopes to preserve by his unremitting exertions in affording to all those who may confer on him the favor of their patronage, genteel and comfortable accommodations. The subscriber deems it unnecessary to indicate the multiplicity of conveniences attached to the City Hotel, and will only submit a description to that portion of travellers who have so generally attested its numerous advantages.

James Brook.

February 20.

NOTICE.

LAST NIGHT between the hours of seven and eight o'clock, was stolen from the house formerly occupied by Mr. Lawes, now occupied by Miss Helen Gullatt, two Bed-quits, one of which being remarkable had a large sized leaf with a dark ground diamond, being also of furniture calico, and quilted by the leaf, also by the diamond—the other being a diamond and star, with a large star in the center, quilted chiefly in shells—also a blanket and linen sheet. Whoever will apprehend the thief, and deliver the things to this office, or to Miss Helen Gullatt, shall be generously rewarded. Should they be offered for sale, it is requested they may be stopped and information given as above mentioned.

A NEW NOVEL.

Just Published, and for Sale by COTTON & STEWART, Price 1 dollar.

OR THE DISAPPOINTMENTS OF YOUTH, A NOVEL.

Feb. 19.

By GEORGE WATKINSON, Esq. OF WASHINGTON (CITY), Author of the Lawyer and Child of Feeling.

The celebrity of this author's "LAWYER," and "CHILD OF FEELING," induced the publishers to engage in this work, and without detracting from the merits of the former, feel themselves justified in stating that his GLENCARN is superior to either. It is submitted without further recommendation, with a wish, that the American reviewers may give further encouragement to this young gentleman's endeavors to entertain, instruct and moralize his fellow citizens, in a way seemingly well calculated to attract their attention.

THE first number of this valuable Work is just come to hand and is ready for inspection at the store of the publishers in King-street, and with Mr. Triplet, at the coffee-house.
Fully aware of the impositions that have been practised upon the public by strangers, soliciting subscriptions from distant places; the Editors invite their examination of a Work perhaps the most useful, entertaining as well as extensive in its kind that has ever been undertaken in any country. And they flatter themselves that the American will by no means shrink from a comparison with the London edition, tho' offered at six dollars per Vol. less.
This number may be considered as a fair specimen of the execution of the work, and will be left a short time for examination, before the 2d number is put to press. After this the subscription will be raised to $2 25 each number; and but a few more copies printed than are sufficient to supply the subscribers, that the early patrons of this valuable Work may have a decided advantage—subsequent applications may therefore come too late.
It is also the intention of the Editor to annex to the last number a complete list of names of the subscribers, and the patrons and encouragers of useful knowledge, the arts and literature of the United States.
Subscriptions are received by the publishers.

P. G. Marsteller, v. M.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE subscriber, after a lapse of time necessarily consumed in the preparation of his house, respectfully announces to the citizens of Alexandria, as well as the community at large, that he has taken for a term of years that noted and eligible establishment known by the name of the CITY HOTEL, and once occupied by Mr. Gadsby, whose distinguished abilities as a Publican gave it an éclat which the subscriber hopes to preserve by his unremitting exertions in affording to all those who may confer on him the favor of their patronage, genteel and comfortable accommodations. The subscriber deems it unnecessary to indicate the multiplicity of conveniences attached to the City Hotel, and will only submit a description to that portion of travellers who have so generally attested its numerous advantages.

James Brook.

February 20.

NOTICE.

LAST NIGHT between the hours of seven and eight o'clock, was stolen from the house formerly occupied by Mr. Lawes, now occupied by Miss Helen Gullatt, two Bed-quilts, one of which being remarkable had a large sized leaf with a dark ground diamond, being also of furniture calico, and quilted by the leaf, also by the diamond—the other being a diamond and star, with a large star in the center, quilted chiefly in shells—also a blanket and linen sheet. Whoever will apprehend the thief, and deliver the things to this office, or to Miss Helen Gullatt, shall be generously rewarded. Should they be offered for sale, it is requested they may be stopped and information given as above mentioned.

OR THE DISAPPOINTMENTS OF YOUTH, A NOVEL.

By GEORGE WATKINSON, Esq.

OF WASHINGTON CITY,

Author of the Lawyer and Child of Feeling.

The celebrity of this author's "LAWYER," and "CHILD OF FEELING" induced the publishers to engage in this work, and without detracting from the merits of the former, feel themselves justified in stating that his GLENCARN is superior to either. It is submitted without further recommendation, with a wish, that the American reviewers may give further encouragement to this young gentleman's endeavors to entertain, instruct and moralize his fellow citizens, in a way seemingly well calculated to attract their attention.

THE REPORT.

Aware of the danger and inconvenience of collisions between the measures of the national and state governments, and persuaded that harmony and mutual confidence constitute the basis of the power of confederate states, your committee have examined the documents accompanying the presidential message, with a sincere disposition to discover a sufficient justification for the rupture of a negotiation so deeply affecting the interests of the nation. The cause, alleged is, that the British minister in his correspondence persisted in using terms which implied that the American government had a knowledge of the fact, that Mr. Erskine had not authority to conclude the arrangement made by him in behalf of his government, after such knowledge had been explicitly disavowed by the American executive. It is not pretended that this is expressly asserted by the British minister to be a fact. Your committee are unable to discern either the assertion or the insinuation of this as a fact; nor can they per-

The importance of these repulsive measures is increased by the deplorable state of the public-treasury. From the reports of the secretary of the treasury, it is apparent that the net revenue of the United States during the year 1807, was sixteen millions fifty-nine dollars. That during the year 1808, under the first operation of the embargo, the same revenue was only ten millions three hundred and thirty-two dollars. That during the year 1809, under the further operation of the same system, it was reduced to six million and an half dollars. So that the difference of the amount of revenue between the years 1807 and 1809, is nine millions and a half of dollars. It is also stated in the last report from that department, that the expenses of the government for the last year, exclusive of payments on account of the principal of the public debt, have exceeded the actual receipts into the treasury, nearly thirteen hundred thousand dollars, which deficiency has been paid out of the surplus of preceding years. It is further stated, that the expense of government upon a peace establishment, for the year 1811, will be a-

As the miseries of such a war would be incurred without adequate motive, they must be sustained without a possible chance of indemnity. On the ocean, Britain is at present invulnerable. It is only upon the side of Canada that the American arms could come into actual collision with her dominions, and if the chances of war, after a profusion of blood and treasure, should enable the United States to add to their territory, already too extensive, this province of Frenchmen, what would be the value of the acquisition?—And for whom would it be acquired? To hold it as a colony would be inconsistent with the genius of our institutions. To adopt it as a free and independent state, would be equally repugnant to the habits and wishes of that people. Under what pretext could we hold this ancient and favorite appendage of France, claiming it as her legitimate estate, with the voice of a great majority of its inhabitants to second her pretensions? It is morally certain, that Canada, conquered by

WHEREAS, Francis James Jackson, minister plenipotentiary from the court of Great Britain, having full powers to negotiate and conclude a treaty for the amicable adjustment of the controversies unhappily subsisting between the United States and that nation, after being duly accredited by the executive of the United States, has been suspended from the exercise of his functions, for some expressions contained in his correspondence with the government of the United States, which are alleged to be derogatory to the honor and veracity of the executive government; and the legislatures of some of our sister states having declared their assent to the construction given to the said correspondence, and their approbation of the dismissal of the said British minister; and the legislature of Massachusetts having examined the said correspondence, and being unable to discern in it any passage or words which, in their judgment, can be fairly construed to convey disrespectful and offensive imputations. And whereas the doings of the said legislatures, combined with the resolutions of congress, have a tendency to widen the breach already existing, and to remove still farther the prospect of an accommodation. And whereas the legislature, while they are always ready, at whatever hazard, to embark in a just and necessary war, and to support the national government with the whole force and resources of the state, are nevertheless persuaded, that no just cause exists for a rupture with Great Britain, and that its effects, detrimental to both nations, would tend to the impoverishment of this commonwealth, to the destruction of its commerce, and to the aggrandizement of a power already formidable to the liberties of mankind. And whereas we deem it a duty to use all the means in our power to allay the existing irritations, and prepare the

...for the restoration of a friendly intercourse between two countries whose interests are in many points essentially united:
Resolved, That the legislature of Massachusetts, is affected with sincere and profound regret at the late unexpected and sudden termination of the correspondence between the American secretary of state and Francis James Jackson, his Britanic Majesty's minister, for which they can see no just or adequate cause.
Resolved, That it is our anxious wish that some means may be devised, consistent with the honor of the United States, to resume the negotiations between the two countries; for obtaining reparation of real injuries; and to establish peace and amity, so essential to the interest and happiness of both, upon a permanent basis.
Resolved, That the acts of embargoes and non-intercourse, and the whole system of commercial restraints, adopted and contemplated by the late and present administration, are impediments to a restoration of our amicable relations with Great Britain, and have proved in the highest degree pernicious to the best interests of this country, and especially of this commercial state.— That all the predictions of their opponents have been verified. That by the operation of these acts, the public treasury has been drained, and brought to the verge of bankruptcy, that the commerce of the country has been palsied, and in a great measure irrecoverably destroyed; that the whole of this impotent system has become a subject of derision with those it was intended to coerce, and that its mischiefs have recoiled upon our own country.
Resolved, That the temporary suspension of these acts afforded demonstration of the means of the U. States to pursue a highly lucrative commerce; even under existing embarrassments, and an opportunity which was gladly embraced by our mercantile citizens.—That during this interval all our shipping was employed, and that our navigation experienced civility and protection from the British cruisers, whilst it has been constantly annoyed by the depredations of France and her allies.
Resolved, That all measures calculated to produce unnecessary hostility with Great Britain, at all times impolitic and contrary to the true interests of this nation, are at the present crisis peculiarly unfortunate, and ought to be discontinued by all constitutional means.—That our country is devoted to the cause of liberty and justice, and that to fortify one, and replenish the other, will require time, economy, and the advantages of renewed commerce.—That, on the contrary, Great Britain is inaccessible and in-vulnerable, except in one of its provinces; the conquest of which, if it could be effected, would prove a curse and a scourge to ourselves and our posterity.
Resolved, That a war with Great Britain would inevitably lead to an alliance with France, and thus furnish to her ambition the means and the pretext for organizing within the United States, the materials and instruments for schemes of future domination. These materials unhappily abound on the northern frontier, and in our newly acquired territories in the south. From such a contest, the United States, if unsuccessful, would be compelled to retire with a disgraceful surrender of the objects of the war, or, if successful, by contributing to the downfall of Britain, would be left alone to encounter a power, who, unopposed by the navy of his present enemy, would call into requisition all the resources and energies of our solitary republic, to defend, in doubtful conflict, our liberties upon our own shores.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20.

IT is with most sincere pleasure we congratulate our numerous readers, on again seeing our river whitened with canvass instead of ice; and the useless lumber of our wharves giving place to the staple product of distant climes.

The agreeable sensations produced by this partial revival of commerce, naturally lead the mind into reflections, both retrospective and prospective. To every inconvenience, whether a commercial restriction, or other calamity, from the hand of the Almighty, let us silently submit;—it cannot be wrong: Released now from one of these, we, for a moment forget that the erring hand of our fellow-creatures, and our professed friends too, has rivetted shackles upon us, that no returning spring appears likely to melt away!
Within the sensible horizon, it may, for a moment look cheering; but within the rational one, are vexatious barriers, and intolerable restraints; incompatible with the genius of freemen. There is indeed "a lion without," which being suffered to range uncontrolled, when but a whelp, has now grown so formidable, as to require more sagacity to shun, or power to crush him, than happens to be within the scope of our present rulers. However logicians may argue, that the one or the other, belligerent took the precedence as to contempt of neutral rights; here is a plain fact, before which all sophistry must retire:—The decree issued from Berlin, was the first grand pass made at US; in the very teeth of an express treaty; and which cut like a two edged sword, both our honor and interest. AND, honor, interest and polity loudly proclaimed this a crisis in which the outrage should have been repelled as became a brave and independent people.— Had the days of Pinckney, Marshall and Gerry, or more emphatically speaking; of Truxton, Barry and Little, been promptly measured upon those who meted us this violence; the whole catalogue of retaliating and re-retaliating orders; embargoes (by sea and land) supplements and additions of supplements to the seventh generation, together with all the twist of proclamations, interdictions and non-intercourses, ALL would of course have been avoided! And what, in the name of sound reason, prevented this policy from being pursued, but a shameful and damning obsequiousness to France?
Our comparative means of humbling her the second time, were certainly equal to what they were the first:—A few La Bourgeois, La Vengeance and La Berceau trophies, and the revocation of the obnoxious decree, with a guarantee as before for her good behavior, would have been tendered as the price of our forbearance! The same brave tars stood ready to "fight their battles o'er again," and we believe, in every instance, during the late short conflict, when the enemy could be overtaken, a feat followed of course. This may be a proud era in the annals of America!

It is not, however, the arms of France we fear, but her arts. Her legions have indeed slain their thousands, but her legions of honor their ten thousands! What sensible man would believe, that the splendor reflected from iron crown, thistle, grand cordon, legion of honor and such paltry trash, could dazzle and charm for one moment the senses of a native American? Be not deceived! It is even so! and we are indeed "fast approximating to that system," or rather that political vortex, in whose deadly chasm have disappeared half the nations of the earth!

FROM SPAIN.

Capt. Lewis, has arrived at Boston from Cadiz, left that place on the 25th of December. It was reported that a battle had been fought between the French and a Spanish army, in which one of the wings of the latter had been destroyed. There were no accounts, however, of the advance of the French, and although it was feared

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, February 20.

[Taken for the Alexandria Gazette.]

A communication from the Secretary of War covering an account of the sale of public arms, authorized by law. Ordered to be printed.

The bill from the Senate, for the relief of the Canada and Nova Scotia refugees, with amendments, was read and passed.

A bill from the Senate, prescribing the mode of making applications for land at the several land offices of the United States was read and passed.

Mr. Johnson, from the committee of claims, made sundry reports on petitions.
The reports were unfavorable.

The house, on motion of Mr. Eppe, went into committee of the whole on the bill for making appropriations for the support of the navy of the United States for the year 1810; Mr. Macow in the chair.

The committee proceeded to fill the blanks, and having gone through the bill, rose and reported it to the house with amendments.

The house proceeded to consider the amendments, and having agreed to them, the bill was ordered to a third reading to-morrow.

On motion of Mr. Eppe, the house resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Macow in the chair, on the bill making appropriations for the military establishment of the United States, for the year 1810. The blanks were filled and the bill reported as amended. The house agreed to the amendments and passed the bill to a third reading to-morrow.

A communication from the secretary of the treasury was received, covering an account of receipts and expenditures for the year 1809.

On motion of Mr. Fisk, the house took up the bill providing for the third census of the U. S.

A message from the Senate stating that they had passed the appropriation bill, with amendments, was received.

SHIP NEWS.

Mount Vernon, Feb. 21.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

WAS STOLEN from the subscriber's stable, in this town, on Sunday night last, the 18th inst., a light SORREL HORSE, with a long and large blaze in his face; flaxen mane, and tail nearly of the same color, but not so white. This horse is supposed to be about 14 or 14 and half hands high, and 6 or 7 years old—he is compact, remarkable for the excellence of his gait, carries his head rather low, and a good tail though neither nick'd nor bob'd—no artificial marks recollected—he may however be easily known by an examination of his eyes; which will show that he has been recently cut for the hooks, and by a trick of starting and turning round when he meets another horse. The above reward will be given for the horse and thief, and TEN DOLLARS with all reasonable charges for the horse alone.

ORIGINAL FAMILY MEDICINES,
Prepared by RICHARD LEE & SON,
Have been in high estimation and general use throughout the United States, for upwards of ten years. And, it is no inconsiderable evidence of their utility, that during the above period, numerous imitations of every article, the productions of ignorance and experience, urged by envy and pecuniary, have been introduced on the public, seen for a day, and then perished! Others, now succeed them, which in like manner are fast descending to the tomb of the Capulets; while our remedies become more generally used, and acquire a daily accession of deserved celebrity.

Lee's Worm-destroying Lozenges.
This medicine is superior to any ver offered to the public, being innocent and mild certain and efficacious in its operations.—Should no worms exist in the body, it will without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders.

Lee's Elixer.
A certain remedy for colds, coughs, asthma, and particularly the whooping cough, so destructive to children.

Lee's Essence of Mustard,
So well known for the cure of rheumatism, gout, palsy, sprains, &c. &c.

Lee's Grand Restorative, Proved by long experience to be unequalled in the cure of nervous disorders, consumptions, leanness of spirits, inward weakness, &c.

Lee's Anti-Bilious Pills,
For the prevention and cure of bilious and malignant fevers.

Lee's Sovereign Ointment for the Itch.
Which is warranted an infallible remedy at one application.

Infallible Ague & Fever Drops,
For the cure of agues, remittent, and intermittent fevers.

Lee's Genuine Persian Lotion, Celebrated for the cure of ring worms, tetter, &c.

Lee's Genuine Eye Water.
An effectual remedy for all diseases of the eyes.

Tooth-ache Drops.
Which give immediate relief.

Lee's Damask Lip Salve.

Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

The Anodyne Elixir,
For the cure of every kind of head-ache.

The Indian Vegetable Specific,
For the cure of venereal complaints.

These medicines having come into general use, they are frequently purchased not only by Druggists, but by country store keepers to sell again; in order that the purchasers may be confident they have the original genuine medicines; wherever they purchase they have but to observe, that every article of medicine has on the outward wrapper the signature of the proprietors.

New Tooth Extractor.
THE subscriber has effected an improvement in the instrument for extracting teeth, by which this operation is rendered considerably less painful, and more safe, than by the common method, and applies in all cases. During some months use of this instrument, (the only one except Briff's Patent, where that will apply) the jaw has in no instance been injured, nor the gum torn (or lacerated). Persons who choose it, attended at their homes as usual. Apply lower end of Prince street to
